

DECEMBER 2022

TRIVIA

CHALLENGE

Your District Interact Board of Directors, due to unforeseen circumstances have not been able to meet and iron out the last details for the Trivia Challenge. We are still having the Trivia Challenge, the third week in January. Once the final decisions have been made, an email blast will be sent out and it will be posted on the District's website.

In the last year you have made great strides in promoting peace both within and outside our District.

We now have three Peacebuilder Interact Clubs in Rotary District 7305. Greater Johnstown was the first, South Fayette was the second and Ligonier Valley was the third.

We have also now sold a total of 5 Peace Poles, one to Greensburg Central Catholic High School, one to Cranberry Sunrise Rotary Club in Rotary District 7280, two to South Fayette High School and one to Frazier High School.

Let us know what impact your efforts are making in your communities.

Bethel Park Interact had the privilege to volunteer at this years Bethel Bounty hosted by the Bethel Park Community Foundation. Have you noticed that Bethel Park Interact has a lot of fun no matter what the project is?

COTTON CANDY is what the Bethel Park Interact Club sold at the IMS Craft Fair. Monies raised will help fund their Adopt A Family Holiday Project benefiting families in need this holiday season!

The Johnstown Interact Club recently received an award from the WJAC/Blaise Alexander Family Dealership "Kindness Counts" contest.. Any service organization within the WJAC viewing area was able to enter with a 500-word essay on the community service initiatives that the club or organization has participated. They received a check for $2,500 to use to further their community service work. They will be using the money for their literacy projects.

The Greater Johnstown High School Interactors were busy getting their "house" in order at the local city park for Johnstown's Light-up Night.

They were so happy to attend the Second Annual Interact Induction breakfast. Seventy-two students from the Johnstown Middle School have shown their dedication and commitment to our community, and we hold great pride in welcoming them to our Interact family!

'tis the season

In the first few months of the 22-23 school year, Interactors at North Allegheny were greatly involved in community activities. Members volunteered with the local library for annual events, wrote letters to senior citizens to fight isolation, assisted with their local community clean-up, and more. NA Interact also sent necklaces with the words "Be Kind" engraved onto them, along with encouraging handwritten notes, to third graders at Grandview Elementary School. Two Interactors also started a donation drive called "Blankets and Beanies" and raised over 300 blankets and beanies to donate to cancer patients.

NA Interact also started two EarlyAct clubs at two of the three NA middle schools. The clubs first met in November for an informational meeting and assisted high school Interact in making cards for veterans. In total, there were almost 30 students in attendance at the informational meetings, and over 40 interested in becoming EarlyActors.
